Terms relating to the commission or other payment from Opus to the introducer shall be separately agreed. Occasionally following completion of a loan, the customer may subsequently cancel the loan, adjust the amount borrowed, cancel any payment protection cover or adjust the amount of cover. In such instances you the introducer will be required to immediately repay the amount of any overpayment of commission. Where sufficient pipeline commission is available the overpayment will be deducted from this. Otherwise, you will be required to remit the relevant amount.
